

Rabbit Water Bowls & Dispensers

A practical comparison of 14 drinking setups

Apparatus	Useful feature	Main checks	Bunny Takeaway
1  Ordinary open bowl	Easy access and inspection	Stability, debris, rim, wet fur	A simple favourite in rabbit studies.
2  Ceramic / stoneware	Weight resists movement	Chips, cracks, food-safe surface	A sturdy choice for bowl shufflers.
3  Stainless steel	Durable, washable	Stable base, secure fittings	Easy to wash. Help it stay put.
4  Plastic bowl	Light and inexpensive	Chewing, damage, cleaning access	Budget-friendly; watch those teeth.
5  Glass bowl	Smooth surface	Breakage, stability, food suitability	Smooth and washable, but breakable.
6  Gravity-fed bowl	Extra refill capacity; often no pump	Seals, dispensing, basin cleaning	More reserve water, same daily care.
7  Hybrid reservoir cup	Compact cup with water reserve	Activation, cup access, valve cleaning	Check how the little cup refills.
8  Electric fountain	Moving-water option	Power, cables, splash, pump, filters	Let bunny choose; more drinking isn't guaranteed.
9  Sipper bottle	Familiar; may reduce wet fur	Flow, air blocks, leaks, reach	Useful if bunny drinks well and stays drier.
10  Mounted / coop cup	Helps prevent tipping	Height, fittings, easy removal	For bunnies who rearrange their bowls.
11  Raised / tilted bowl	May adapt individual access	Posture, footing, spills.	Fit the height to your bunny.
12  Covered / floating-disc	May reduce spilling	Access, sticking parts, hidden surfaces	Less mess only helps if drinking stays easy.
13  Travel bowl	Portable supervised use	Folding, movement, chewing	Handy for supervised travel breaks.
14  Bowl with ice cubes	Temporary water cooling	Acceptance, liquid water, hygiene	A cool option if bunny likes it.

ACCESS:

Watch your rabbit reach and drink comfortably.

DAILY CARE:

Check at least twice daily. Replace water and wash bowls daily.

BACKUP:

Keep a familiar, working water source available.

Scan for rabbit-care guides oishibunnies.com

Rabbit studies favour open dishes. For fancy designs, watch your bunny's comfort and habits.